("THE TRIBUNAL")

CASE NUMBER: CT015AUG2015

In the matter between:

EDCON LIMITED

APPLICANT

JET HOLDINGS (PTY) LTD

RESPONDENT

Coram: PJ Veldhuizen

Order delivered 15 December 2015

ORDER

1. THE PARTIES

1.1. The Applicant is EDCON LIMITED ("the Applicant"), a company incorporated and existing under the company laws of the Republic of South Africa, having its principal place of business at Edgardale, 1

Press Avenues, Crown Mines, Johannesburg, Gauteng, Republic of South Africa.

1.2. The Respondent is JET HOLDINGS (PTY) LTD ("the Respondent"), a company incorporated and existing under the company laws of the Republic of South Africa, having its registered office at No 196, Chatsworth Road, Dynamo Centre, Office 8, Umhlatuzana, Kwa-Zulu Natal, Republic of South Africa.

1.3. In the CTR145 Application for Relief the Applicant refers to the Second Respondent but does not indicate the identity of the Second Respondent nor cite the Second Respondent in its papers. Presumably this is an oversight on the part of the Applicant and presumably it wishes the Tribunal to rely on paragraph 5.1.2 of the affidavit of WERNINA GRIFFITHS dated 17 November 2015 where it sets out the prayer it seeks should, the Respondent fail to comply with an Order, given by the Tribunal.

2. THE APPLICATION

2.1. This is an application brought in terms of Section 160 of the Companies Act No. 71 of 2008 ("the Act") for an Order confirming that the Respondent's name does not satisfy the requirements of Section 11 of the Act and that the Respondent be directed by the Companies Tribunal ("the Tribunal") to choose a new name, as provided for in section 160 (3)(b)(ii) of the Act.

2.2. The Applicant is the proprietor of the well-known trademark JET which it has registered in South Africa in relation to a wide range of goods and services.

2.3. I am accordingly satisfied that the Applicant has the necessary locus standi to bring this application.

2.4. The Applicant objects to the use of the word JET by the Respondent in its company name, and has filed an Application, as prescribed by Regulation 142 (1)(a).

2.5. The gravamen of the Applicant's objection is that the Respondent's name is confusingly similar to the Applicant's registered, well-known JET trademark and therefore falls foul of the provisions of Section 11 of the Act.

3. THE PROCEDURAL ASPECTS

3.1. In support of its objection, the Applicant has filed an affidavit by inter alia its Group Legal Adviser and Company Secretary, CHARLES MZWANDILE VIKISI, setting out the facts on which the application is based, as required by regulation 142 (1)(b).

3.2. Two affidavits have been filed by WERINA GRIFFITHS of the Applicant's attorneys of record and one by MICHAEL JAMES MCCORMICK, the Applicant's private investigator.

3.3. The affidavit of WERINA GRIFFITHS dated 17 November 2015 dealt with the procedural aspects related to inter alia service, filing, good cause and the Default Order which the Applicant wished the Tribunal to consider.

3.4. The affidavit of WERINA GRIFFITHS dated 14 July 2015 dealt with the legislation and case law, which the Applicant wished the Tribunal to consider.

3.5. The affidavit of MICHAEL JAMES MCCORMICK dated 14 July 2015 dealt with the instruction from Applicant to the deponent to establish the address and activities of the Respondent.

3.6. The Applicant has, in my view, complied with all aspects related to the service of the Application on the Respondent and the filing with the Tribunal. Notwithstanding the delay in bringing this application, the Applicant has satisfactorily explained the reasons for same.

4. THE RELIEF SOUGHT

4.1. In terms of Regulation 153 (1) read with Regulation 143 (1), the Respondent had twenty (20) days to respond, failing which the Applicant would be entitled to apply for a Default Order, as applied for.

4.2. No response has been received from the Respondent and the Applicant accordingly applies to the Tribunal in terms of Regulation 153 (2) that the Tribunal make a Default Order in terms of Regulation 153 (1).

4.3. The Applicant seeks an Order directing that the Respondent select an alternative name which does not consist of or incorporate any word confusingly or deceptively similar to the Applicant's registered trademarks, or any other mark which is confusingly and/or deceptively similar to the Applicant's registered trademarks.

5. THE LAW

5.1. The regulation of disputes concerning the reservation or registration of company names and the jurisdiction of the Tribunal is set out in Section 160 of the Act:

A person to whom a notice is delivered in terms of this Act with respect to an application for a reservation of a name, registration of a defensive name, application to transfer the reservation of a name or the registration of a defensive name, or the registration of a company's name, or any other person with an interest in the name of a company, may apply to the Companies

Tribunal in the prescribed manner and form for the determination whether the name, or the reservation, registration or use of the name, or the transfer of any such reservation or registration of a name, satisfies the requirements of this Act.

(a) within three months after the date of a notice contemplated in subsection (1); or

(b) on good cause shown at any time after the date of the reservation or registration of the name that is the subject of the application, in any other case.

After considering an application made in terms of subsection (1), and any submissions by the Applicant and any other person with an interest in the name or proposed name that is the subject of the application, the Companies Tribunal –

(a) must make a determination whether that name, or the reservation, registration or use of the name, or the transfer of the reservation or registration of the name, satisfies the requirements of this Act; and

(b) may make an administrative order directing –

(i) the Commission to –

(aa) reserve a contested name, or register a particular defensive name that had been contested, for the applicant;

(bb) register a name or amended the name that had been contested as the name of the company;

(cc) cancel the reservation of a name, or the registration of a defensive name; or

(dd) transfer, or cancel the transfer of, the reservation of a name, or the registration of a defensive name; or

(ii) a company to choose a new name, and to file a notice of an amendment to its Memorandum of Incorporation, within a period and on any conditions that the Tribunal considers just, equitable and expedient in the circumstances, including a condition exempting the company from the requirement to pay the prescribed fee for filing the Notice of Amendment contemplated in this paragraph.

within 20 business days after receiving a notice or decision issued by the Companies Tribunal in terms of this section, an incorporator of a company, a company, a person who received a notice in terms of section 12(3) or 14(3), an applicant under subsection (1) and any other person with an interest in the name or proposed name that is the subject of the application, as the case may be, may apply to court to review the notice or decision.

5.2. The restrictive criteria for the names that may be chosen by a company is set out in Section 11 (2) of the Act:

(iii) a registered trademark belonging to a person other than the company, where mark in respect of which an application has been filed in the Republic for registration as a trademark or a well-known trademark is contemplated in section 35 of the Trade Marks Act, 1993 (Act 194 of 1993), unless the registered owner of that mark has consented in writing to the use of the mark as the name of the company; or

(ii) in the case of the company name similar to a defensive name or to a business name referred to in paragraph (a)(ii), the company, or person who controls the company, is the registered owner of that defensive name or business name;

(iii) in the case of a name similar to a trademark or mark referred to in paragraph (a)(iii), the company is the registered owner of the business name, trademark, will mark, or is authorised by the registered owner to use it; or

(iv) in the case of a name similar to a mark, word or expression referred to in paragraph (a)(iv), the use of that mark, word or expression by the company is permitted by and in terms of the Merchandise Marks Act, 1941;

(i) the propaganda for war;

(ii) incitement of imminent violence; or

(iii) advocacy of hatred based on race, ethnicity, gender or religion, or incitement to cause harm.

6. THE APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO THE FACTS

6.1. The crisp question requiring an answer is whether the use of the word JET in the company name of the Respondent amounts to a contravention of sections 11(2)(a)(iii), (2)(b) and / or (c)(i) of the Act.

6.2. The case law considered included:

6.2.1. Century City Apartments v Century City Property Owners

2009 ZASCA 157 - the court stated that if the association between the two respective names or marks causes the public to wrongly believe that the respective goods come from the same economically linked undertakings there is a likelihood of confusion.

6.2.2. Polaris Capital (Pty) Ltd v The Registrar of Companies and Polaris Capital Management Inc (unreported judgement, Case Number 11607/2005 Cape of Good Hope Provincial Division). The learned judge, in commenting on the "undesirability" in terms of section 45 (2) of the Companies Act, 1973 made the following comments:

"The requirement, 'calculated to cause damage to the objector' is aimed at providing statutory recognition for an owner's legally protectable commercial interests."

The judge went further and commented that the purpose of the aforementioned provision was to:

"...expand an aggrieved party's ability to forestall any possible harm, by providing a statutory remedy..."

6.2.3. On appeal, in the same case, the Supreme Court of Appeal confirmed that:

"A company name will be confusing when, in doing business with the company, the public or a section of the public would be confused into thinking that they are doing business with another company or would be confused into thinking that the company is associated in some way with the other company"

6.2.4. Peregrine Group (Pty) Ltd v Peregrine Holdings Ltd 2000 (1) SA 187 (W), the learned Judge stated, which was confirmed on appeal, the principle that where company names are substantially similar and where a likelihood of confusion amongst members of the public exists in their dealings with these parties, that these are important factors which a Court will take into consideration in determining whether a name is "undesirable".

6.2.5. Hollywood Curl (Pty) Ltd v Twins Products (Pty) Ltd 1989 (1)

SA 255 (A) the useful phrase "another horse out of the same stable" was used by the Court to ground its decision that the use of the Hollywood trademark in combination with other words rendered it likely that the public, on encountering the competing company in the marketplace, would assume that they were one and the same.

6.2.6. Capital Estates and General Agencies (Pty) Ltd and Others v

Holiday Inns Inc & Others 1977 (2) 916 confirmed that the absence of a common field of activity will not be sufficient to thwart a party from obtaining relief. To the contrary, it was decided in Ewing (t/a) The Buttercup Dairy Co. Buttercup Margarien Co-operation Limited 1917 (34) R.P.C. 232 and 238 line 50 where Judge Warrington said:

"He (the Plaintiff) has proved that the Defendants have adopted such a name as may lead people who have dealings with the Plaintiff to believe that the Defendant's business is a branch of or is associated with the Plaintiff's business. To induce a belief that my business is a branch of another man's business may do that other man damage in all kinds of ways. The quality of the goods I sell, the kind of business I do, the credit or otherwise which I might enjoy - all those things may immensely injure the other man who is assumed wrongly to be associated with me. It is just that kind of injury that the Defendant's have shown here is likely to occasion."

7. FINDINGS

7.1. When considering the utilisation by the Respondent of the word JET in its company name in the light of the:

7.1.1. sections of the Act set out above;

7.1.2. judgments referred to above, of the Higher Courts;

7.1.3. extensive reputation enjoyed by the Applicant in the name JET;
and

7.1.4. recognised and registered intellectual property rights in the word;

it is simply inconceivable that the Respondent's conduct would not amount to a contravention of section 11 (2)(a)(iii), 11 (2)(b) and / or (c)(i) of the Act.

8. ORDER

8.1. The application that the Respondent is directed to select an alternative name which does not consist of or incorporate any word confusingly or deceptively similar to the Applicant's registered trademarks, or any other mark which is confusingly and/or deceptively similar to the Applicant's registered trademarks IS GRANTED, with costs.

8.2. The Respondent is directed to attend to this selection of an alternative company name by 1 March 2016;

8.3. In the event that the Respondent fails to attend to the selection of the alternative name by 1 March 2016, the Commissioner of Companies & Intellectual Property is directed to record the Respondent's name as the Respondent's Registration Number followed by (Pty) Ltd, as the Respondent's interim name on the Companies Register.
